Koh-I-Noor Hardtmuth created the yellow pencil. Probably one of the most renowned pencils in the world. Not only that but the pencil grading scale we use in Europe today was born by Koh-I-Noor Hardtmuth. Koh-I-Noor manufacture their pencils precisely according to the grade for a reliable result every time.

Koh-I-Noor Hardtmuth craft their pencils expertly according to the grade. With a carefully balanced formula of graphite and clay to create blacker or harder lines on the paper. The 1500 yellow envelope pencils can be ordered white boxed for educational /retail settings. Packed in the same grade as boxes of 12. Also available in a grey envelope (range 1860).

Tempera paints are intended in particular for art lessons in schools but professional painters use them as well. Their quality is high, they are thick, miscible and water soluble. The paint dries quickly and can be liquified after drying with water which is great for reworking your art. The base of the paint is finely squashed pigments mixed with an emulsion of suitable oil and binder. Available in sets of 6 or 10 or as individual tubes in varying sizes for the educational setting.

Acrylic paints are water-soluble dispersion paints of a high quality from Koh-I-Noor. These acrylic paints can be applied by brush, roller or spatula to any non-greasy substrate. The colours available are characterised by a high pigment content and colour light-fastness as well as a water-resistant coating after drying. Available in 16ml tubes in packs of 6 or 10 or as individual colours of varying sizes for personal, professional and educational settings.
